

The New England Japanese American Citizens League and
The Wellesley Friends Meeting

invite you to an informal, open forum on

The Crisis in Japan

a discussion with Kenneth Oye
MIT Associate Professor of Political Science and Engineering Systems

Saturday, April 2 from 10 to 11:30 am

Wellesley Friends Meeting
26 Benvenue Street, Wellesley

Please join us for this discussion on Japan's earthquake and tsunami, recent events in Fukushima, and the long-term effects on politics and economics in the region. Ken Oye was in Tokyo during the earthquake and will provide an eye-witness account of the event as well as his perspective as a political scientist and author of articles on Japan's nuclear policies.

This program is free and open to the public.
