We need volunteers!

Last month we worked with Boston University to host a very successful teacher training workshop that attracted more then 30 teachers from across the state. The topic was Japanese American Incarceration: Constitutional Vigilance in Times of Crisis. We were impressed by the amount of knowledge the teachers already had about the topic and delighted by their enthusiasm to pass this knowledge on to their students. The main element missing from many of their classrooms is access to people of Japanese ancestry who can talk about the camps and relate their family stories.

Would you be willing to help us to spread the story of the Japanese American experience? Although the WWII experience would be part of it, it shouldn’t be the whole story. It’s also important to talk about your family’s immigration into this country and how they rebuilt their lives after the war. You don’t have to have been in the camp to talk about it. Many of us have stories told to us by parents, grandparents and other relatives.

With all that is happening in the US right now with politicians wanting to put Syrian refugees in camps, it should remind us how important it is that we continue educating new generations so the mistakes of the past are not repeated. If you are willing to be a part of our educational outreach group, please contact us by email at yamamoto@nejacl.org or by phone, 781-259-9444.

Korematsu v. United States on C-SPAN

If you missed the November 9 broadcast of C-SPAN’s Supreme Court Landmark Case Korematsu v. United States, you can still see it on your computer. In 1943 the Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 that the Japanese internment camps were necessary for the protection of all citizens during World War II. On November 10, 1983, this conviction was overturned in a federal court. Interviewed in the program are Karen Korematsu, daughter of Fred Korematsu, and Peter Irons, the civil rights attorney who discovered evidence to re-open the 40-year-old case on the basis of government misconduct. The program includes archival news footage, a tour of Topaz, a home movie by detainee Dave Tatsuno, and Fred Korematsu being given the Medal of Freedom by President Clinton. To view the broadcast, go to: http://www.c-span.org/video/?327715-1/supreme-court-landmark-case-korematsu-v-united-states
2016 JACL Scholarship Program accepting applications
The National JACL Scholarship and Awards Program is now underway. Every year JACL offers approximately 30 college scholarships to incoming freshmen, undergraduate and graduate students. There are also student aid scholarships for those in need of financial aid. Incoming Freshman scholarship applications are due March 1, 2016. All other scholarship categories are due April 1, 2016. For scholarship information, instructions, and applications go to: https://jacl.org/jacl-national-scholarship-program/

Health & Mental Health of Asian American Eldery
The Institute of Asian American Studies at UMass Boston announced the recent publication of Health and Mental Health of Older Asian Americans: A Comparative Study of Chinese, Filipino, Asian Indian, and Other Asian/Pacific Islander Elders by Jing Tan. The report is an analysis of data on older Asian Americans from 10 years of the National Health Interview Survey. It emphasizes the differences in socio-demographic characteristics, health needs, and health insurance coverage among Asian American subgroups. For information on how to download the report, go to: https://www.umb.edu/iaas/publications

INTERNERSHIPS, FELLOWSHIPS & OTHER OPPORTUNITIES
Applications available for summer Teacher Training
JACL is accepting applications for two NEH Landmarks of American History and Culture teacher training workshops during the summer of 2016. Teachers from across the country will spend six days in Los Angeles for comprehensive sessions covering the Japanese American World War II experience. The first workshop will be held from July 24 to 29 and the second from August 7 to 12. Prominent scholars, community activists, and former internees will share their perspectives on the incarceration experience. Included in the program are visits to Manzanar, Santa Anita Park, the Japanese American National Museum, and a historic tour of Los Angeles’ Little Tokyo. Participants will receive a stipend to offset the cost of travel, hotel and meals. This program is funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities. Application deadline is March 1, 2016. For more information and to apply, go to: https://neh2016.jacl.org/overview/

Japan Trip for Asian American students, ages 18 to 25
There is still time to apply for the 2015-2016 Kakehashi Project that offers Japanese American and Asian American students (undergraduate, graduate/professional), ages 18 to 25, a nine-day, expenses paid trip to Japan. The students will visit a number of historical and educational sites, experience traditional and cultural activities, participate in lectures and workshops, and visit Tokyo and one additional city (to be announced). Application deadline is January 3, 2016 for the March 13 to 22, 2016 trip. The Kakehashi project is coordinated by the JACL and the Japan International Cooperation Center (JICE) and supported by funding from the Japan Ministry of Foreign Affairs. For complete details on the program go to: https://jacl.org/youth/kakehashi-project/
Harvard Asian American Policy Review call for submissions

Harvard Asian American Policy Review is accepting submissions for its upcoming 26th edition of the journal. They are looking for submissions that explore the social, economic and political factors that impact the AAPI community and the role of AAPI individuals and communities in analyzing, shaping and implementing public policy. Artists, creative writers and writers from all backgrounds, including scholars, policy makers, civil servants, advocates and organizers are encourage to submit their work. Deadline is December 18, 2015. For more information, go to: http://hksaapr.com/276/

The Princeton Prize in Race Relations

Princeton University sponsors an annual awards program for high school students to recognize, support and encourage young people who have demonstrated a commitment to advancing the cause of positive race relations. Students who are involved in an activity that is helping to improve race relations in their schools or communities are encouraged to apply. Prizes will be awarded, including cash awards up to $1000 for particularly noteworthy work. Applications must be postmarked by January 31, 2016. For more information go to: http://www.princeton.edu/pprize/

2016 Summer Internship at APAICS

The Asian Pacific American Institute for Congressional Studies (APAICS) is now accepting applications for their summer internship program. The eight-week program places interns in US congressional offices and federal agencies and helps to develop leadership and professional skills, encourages political and civic engagement, and fosters a strong interest in public service careers. It provides a stipend of $2,000 and roundtrip air fare within the US. Applicants must be currently enrolled in a two or four-year college and be 18 years of age. For more information and to apply go to: http://apaics.org/summer-interns/

How to become a White House Fellow

The 2016-2017 White House Fellows program is now accepting applications. The fellowship year consists of a full-time work placement in the offices of Cabinet Secretaries, senior White House staff and other high ranking administration officials. Fellows also participate in an education program designed to provide a behind-the-scenes look at leadership in government, non-profits, business, the media, and more. Applicants must be a US citizen, have received a Bachelor’s degree and be working in their chosen profession, and cannot be a current Federal government employee. Deadline for application is January 12, 2016. For more information and to apply, go to: https://www.whitehouse.gov/participate/fellows

Summer Media Internships for students of color

The Emma L. Bowen Foundation is accepting applications for their 2016 summer internships. The program is open to graduating high school seniors or college freshmen and offers paid internships for students of color to work at television stations and media companies in the United States. Boston is one of the major markets in which the Foundation recruits applicants. Deadline for application is January 8, 2016. For more information go to: http://emmabowenfoundation.nationbuilder.com/application_info
EVENTS IN NEW ENGLAND

Saturday
Dec. 5
11am-2pm

AARW 2015 Annual Meeting
Viet AID, 42 Charles Street, Dorchester
The Asian American Resource Workshop’s (AARW) annual meeting will feature food, mingling and learning about AARW’s diverse work in the Boston Pan-Asian community. The meeting is open to members and non-members who want to learn more about the organization. Reservations are requested. To reserve a seat, email uma@aarw.org.

Saturday
Dec. 5
1:30-6pm
films begin at 1:45pm

5th Annual Japan Film Festival in Boston
MIT Sloan, Classroom E51-345, 30 Memorial Drive, Cambridge
The Japan Film Festival in Boston worked with NY Japan Cinefest to present this program of recent short films.

The 6th Samurai
Tadaima
A Warm Spell
Little Kyota Errand Hood
Monk by Blood
Reflection

Hazuki Aikawa, director of Reflection, will be present to discuss his film. Free to members of the MIT community (bring your MIT ID card) and $10 for the general public. For more information and reservations, go to: http://jrex.us

Sunday
Dec. 6
1–4:30 pm

Showa Boston: Japanese Culture Festival
Showa Boston, 420 Pond Street, Boston
This is Showa’s biggest event of the year. Students have worked to create displays and programs on Post-War Japan, Totoro, Sumo, Japanese Folk Tales, and more. A special Kids Room will be featured. The program is free and open to the public. A free shuttle bus from Reservoir Station will be available beginning at 12:30 pm and leaves the Station every hour on the half hour. For more information email enaumann@showaboston.edu or go to: http://www.showaboston.org/info/event/Showa_Festival_12062015.pdf.

Sunday
Dec. 6
3 pm

Chorus Boston Winter Concert
Coolidge Corner Branch Library, 31 Pleasant Street, Brookline
Chorus Boston is an amateur choral group that was established in 1997. The group’s goal is to enjoy singing together while striving to attain a high level of musical performance. The chorus performs both classical and modern music, focusing on Japanese music. They have performed in many venues in Boston and have sung in Carnegie Hall. Their current music director and conductor is Mariko Matsumura. For more information, go to: http://www.chorusboston.org.

Tuesday
Dec. 8
7:45 – 8:45 pm

Odaiko New England Winter Recital
ACAS Center, 29 Montvale Avenue, Woburn
Odaiko is offering a fun, informal evening of performances by students and members. For more information, go to www.onetaiko.org.
Thursday Dec. 10 5 pm

The True Story of “Women’s Empowerment” in Japan: Unexpected Consequences of Work and Family Policies
Smith College, Seelye Hall 106, Northampton
A lecture by Keiko Hirao, currently at a Visiting Scholar at Harvard University and Professor of Sociology at Sophia University, Japan. Her research examines the intersections among family, education and work. For more information, go to: http://www.smith.edu/eas/index.php?utm_source=11%2F23%2F2015&utm_campaign=FCCEAS+e-bulletin&utm_medium=email.

Saturday Dec. 12 8 – 11 am

Superintendent Tommy Chang & the Asian American Community in Boston
VietAID, 42 Charles Street, Dorchester
Join this conversation with Boston Public School superintendent Tommy Chang. The program will include presentations by Dr. Peter Kiang, UMass Boston, and Dr. Rosann Tung, Brown University. Light refreshments will be served. Cantonese, Mandarin and Vietnamese translations will be provided. Children are welcome. Sponsored by the Massachusetts Asian American Education Assn.

Thursday Dec. 17

Off the Menu: Asian America
8 pm on WGBH Channel 2
Filmmaker Grace Lee travels across the US and goes into the kitchens, factories, temples and farms of Asian Pacific America to explore how the bond with food reflects an evolving community.

Lidia Celebrates America: Home for the Holidays’
9 pm on WGBH Channel 2
Chef Lidia Bastianich examines the exuberance of American culture through food. She celebrates the holiday traditions of her native Italy and those of 6 guests who include Ann Curry, Padma Lakshmi, Rita Moreno, Carlo Ponti, Jr., Christopher Walken, and Marcus Samuelsson.

Thursday Dec. 31 3:30 pm

Odaiko New England at Needham’s New Year’s Eve
Masonic Hall, 1101 Highland Avenue, Needham
Odaiko New England will be one of the featured performing groups at Needham’s New Year’s Eve celebration. A $5 button must be purchased to enjoy all of the events in Needham. For more information, go to: http://onetaiko.org/web/event/town-of-needham-new-years-eve/?instance_id=11171

Thursday Dec. 31 8 & 11 pm

Ring in the New Year with Grace Kelly
Scullers Jazz Club, DoubleTree Guest Suites 400 Soldiers Field Road, Boston
A new year’s eve show with jazz saxophonist Grace Kelly. Tickets for the 8 pm show are $100 per couple for the show only, $310 per couple for dinner and show. For the 11 pm show, $130 per couple for the show, $380 per couple for dinner and show. For more information and reservations call 617-562-4111 or go to: http://www.ticketweb.com/snl/VenueListings.action?venueld=18647.
EXHIBITIONS IN NEW ENGLAND

through Dec. 19

teamLab at Radcliffe: What a Loving and Beautiful World
Johnson-Kulukundis Family Gallery
Byerly Hall, 8 Garden Street, Radcliffe Yard, Cambridge
Based in Japan, teamLab is a consortium of artists, engineers and computer scientists specializing in unique ultra-technological installations at the intersection of contemporary art, design, engineering and computer science. teamLab has created a multimedia installation that generates unique immersive experiences for each visitor. Gallery hours are Monday through Saturday, from noon to 5 pm. Free and open to the public. For more information, go to: https://www.radcliffe.harvard.edu/event/2015-teamlab-exhibition.

through Dec. 20

cut. paper. fold.
Concord Center for the Visual Arts, 37 Lexington Road, Concord, MA
Seven artists make, tear, cut, fold, crumple, paint, sew and burn paper, pushing its intrinsic qualities to create their visions. They take the ordinary and make it extraordinary. One of the artists, Fred Liang, pulls from the traditional Chinese art of cut paper and scroll paintings to transform paper into delicately nuanced three-dimensional worlds that seem to breathe. The exhibit is open Tuesday to Saturday from 10 am to 4:30 pm and on Sunday from noon to 4 pm. For more information, go to: http://concordart.org/exhibitions/2015/main_gallery/10_cut_paper_fold/cut_paper_fold.php.

through Dec. 6

Worcester Art Museum
55 Salisbury Street, Worcester
The Baskets of Hayakawa Shokosai III
Known primarily as a bamboo artist, Hayakawa Shokosai III was also an accomplished musician, ink painter, and calligrapher. His baskets and painting will be on display. For more information on all exhibits, go to: http://www.worcesterart.org/Exhibitions/.

Dec. 16 to Apr. 3 2016
Nature Unfolded: Korean Art from the Collection
This installation features two recent acquisitions, an early 19th Century eight-panel Grapevine Screen by Choe Sokhwan and the 18th Century Joseon Moon Jar. For more information, go to: http://www.worcesterart.org/exhibitions/nature-unfolded-korean-art/.

through Jan. 3 2016

Yale Peabody Museum of Natural History
170 Whitney Avenue, New Haven, Connecticut
Samurai and the Culture of Japan’s Great Peace
The 150 artifacts displayed are from 1615 to 1863, during the period of the Great Peace of the Tokugawa shoguns. The exhibit is designed to show some lesser known sides of Japan under samurai rule such as popular notions of responsible lives, good deaths and desirable after lives. For more information, go to: http://peabody.yale.edu/exhibits/samurai-and-culture-japans-great-peace.
Out of the Desert:
Resilience and Memory in Japanese American Internment
Yale University, Sterling Memorial Library Memorabilia Room
120 High Street, New Haven, CT
This exhibit highlights Yale’s extensive collection of materials related to the incarceration of Japanese Americans during World War II. Included in the exhibit is the diary of Yonekazu Sotoda in the Jerome camp. The exhibit was curated by Courtney Sato, a doctoral student in American Studies at Yale. Free and open to the public Monday through Friday, from 8:30 am to 4:45 pm. For a New York Times article on the exhibit, go to: http://www.nytimes.com/2015/12/02/arts/design/life-in-a-japanese-americainternment-camp-via-the-diary-of-a-young-man.html?hpw&ref=arts&action=click&pgtype=Homepage&module=well-region&region=bottom-well&WT.nav=bottom-well
For more information on the exhibit, go to: http://erm.yale.edu/event/courtney-sato-out-desert-resilience-and-memory-japanese-american-internment

Museum of Fine Arts
465 Huntington Avenue, Boston
Made in the Americas: The New World Discovers Asia
through Feb. 15
2016
This exhibit is the first large-scale, pan-American exhibition to examine the profound influence of Asia on the arts of the colonial Americas. Featuring nearly 100 of the most extraordinary objects produced in the colonies, this exhibition explores the rich, complex story of how craftsmen throughout the hemisphere adapted Asian styles in a range of materials – from furniture to silverwork, textiles. ceramics, and paintings. For more information go to: http://www.mfa.org/exhibitions/made-in-the-americas.

In the Steps of the Master: Pupils of Hokusai through Apr. 3
2016
Hokusai’s pupils were inspired by their master to produce outstanding prints and paintings of beautiful women, historical warriors, landscapes, still lifes, and fabulous monsters. This exhibit examines the first wave of Hokusai’s impact on the Japanese art world, ruing his own lifetime and shortly thereafter. For more information, go to: http://www.mfa.org/exhibitions/in-the-steps-of-the-master.

Hiro Photographs
Dec. 12 to Aug. 14
2016
Hiro is known for his distinctively conceived and precisely realized images of subjects including fashion, portraiture and still life. Born Yasuhiro Wakabayashi in 1930 in Shanghai to Japanese parents, he grew up in China and spent the years following WWII in Japan before coming to the US in 1954. His work is known for its originality and technical innovation, with bold uses of light and color, and an elegant sense of surrealism. For more information, go to: http://www.mfa.org/exhibitions/hiro.
WHAT’S HAPPENING ELSEWHERE

NEW YORK

now playing on Broadway

Allegiance
Longacre Theatre, 220 West 48th Street, New York phone; 212-239-6200
Allegiance, a musical set in the Heart Mountain camp marks the first Asian-led cast of a musical on Broadway in more than a decade. Actor George Takei is the show’s producer and star. The show premiered in 2012 at the Old Globe in San Diego to sold-out crowds and rave reviews. It features music and lyrics by Jay Kuo and a book by Marc Acito, Kuo and Lorenzo Thione. Allegiance is directed by Stafford Arima, whose own father was incarcerated in Canada during the war. For more information go to: http://www.allegiancemusical.com.

Jan. 23 to Feb. 14 2016

A Dream of Red Pavilions
Pan Asian Repertory Theatre
Clurman Theatre at Theatre Row, 410 W. 42nd Street
The Pan Asian Repertory Theatre celebrates its 39th season with the New York world premiere of A dream of Red Pavilions, China’s greatest and most beloved novel by Cao Xuegin. Set in 18th Century China, the story centers on two beings from the heavenly kingdom, a stone and a flower, who are reborn on earth as cousins Precious Jade and Dark Jade. The two fall in love but are met with resistance from her family. The playwright is Jeremy Tiang and is directed by Tisa Chang and Lu Yu. For more information, go to: http://www.panasianrep.org/a_dream_of_red_pavilions.shtml.

CALIFORNIA

through Feb. 21, 2016

Manzanar: The Wartime Photographs of Ansel Adams
Citizen 13660: The Art of Mine Okubo
Skirball Cultural Center, 2701 North Sepulveda Blvd., Los Angeles
The exhibit features 50 photographs taken by Ansel Adams at Manzanar during WWII. These photographs were the subject of Adams’s controversial book Born Free and Equal, that was published in 1944 and protested the treatment of American citizens and what Adams called their “enforced exodus.” The second exhibit features Mine Okubo’s original artwork from her book Citizen 13660, the first illustrated memoir chronicling the camp experience. Exhibition hours are Tuesday to Friday, noon to 5 pm, Saturday and Sunday, 10 am to 5 pm. For more information go to: http://www.skirball.org/exhibitions.
Giant Robot Biennale 4 (GRB4)

GRB4 will examine the evolution of the Giant Robot aesthetic from its origins to its many celebrated manifestations. Giant Robot is a staple of Asian American alternative pop culture and was launched in 1994 as a hand-assembled zine and quickly grew into a worldwide empire. At its height Giant Robot include a glossy magazine, a retail website, several brick-and-mortar stores, and even a themed restaurant. More than two decades after its founding, Giant Robot continues to be regarded as a highly influential brand encompassing many aspects of pop art, skateboarder, comic book, graphic arts, and vinyl toy culture. For more information, go to: http://www.janm.org/exhibits/grb4/.

Feb 28 to Apr. 24 2016

Two Views: Photographs by Ansel Adams and Leonard Frank

During WWII citizens of Japanese ancestry in both the US and Canada were incarcerated by their governments. The two photographers had his own approach to recording those events. For more information, go to: http://www.janm.org/exhibits/upcoming/.

Feb 28 to June 26 2016

Making Waves: Japanese American Photography 1920-1940

An in-depth look at the art photographs lost during the incarceration of Japanese Americans during WWII. The museum presents 103 surviving photographs from the 20s and 30s alongside artifacts that help bring the era to life. For more information, go to: http://www.janm.org/exhibits/upcoming/.